Commission

The governing body at Poly High School is the Commission whose regular members are elected semi-annually by the student body.

These commissioners are assisted by the Presidents and Executive Boards of the Boys' and Girls' Leagues, who also are elected semi-annually. The group is advised by four faculty members.

The commission has legislative and executive powers and supervises all student affairs—finances, meetings, and activities, such as student store, plays and games.

According to the constitution, the object of our Commission is "to promote the interests and uphold the good name of the school."

This year our student leaders have achieved much for the betterment of Poly through the revival of school and class spirit.

TARDINESS REPORT

Early in the evening the migration started toward City College. Here are a few of the joyful "characters."

Jordan 7—Poly 6

Some 10,000 spectators crowded into City College's Lounsbury Field to watch Poly and Jordan battle it out in a cross city fracas. Jordan scored in the first quarter and was able to last out the game, winning by a single slim point.

THE SOPHOMORES

This year as an experiment, the classes have chosen section representatives to take an active part in school government. It has been their duty to allow the student body as a whole to play a more important role in all activities. Leading this new program for the sophomores were the class officers. First semester officers, from left to right were: Les Morgan,president; Carl Murphy, vice-president; Gordon Bartholomew, secretary-treasurer. Second semester officers were: Faye Lawrence, president; Dick Houghton, vice-president; Dave Walker, secretary-treasurer.

SOPHOMORE REPRESENTATIVES—ROW I: Warren (White), Spano (Taber), Olsen (Warner), Guiliany (Freeman), Ebell (Farrand), Beck (Barker). THE JUNIORS

To demonstrate their growing interest in school activities the different classes have each given a talent show and had a dance. Another proof of their activity was the Polycade of America Day on which stiff competition between sections for the best costumed couple on the campus was held. To lead the Juniors in their activities were the class officers. First semester officers were: John Thornton, president; Benny Souders, vice-president; Earle Knowles, secretary-treasurer. Second semester officers were: Norman Archibald, president; Jack Ten Eyck, vice-president; Susan Weinheimer, secretary-treasurer.

JR. SECTION REPRESENTATIVES—ROW I: Christensen (Cresmer), Hilleary (Jaeger), Norberg (Meyers), Dandoulakis (M. Santa Ana 14—Poly 6

The varsity traveled to Orange County with high hopes of making up for the Jordan game but we met a team which was able to take the lead and keep it We prevented a shutout with a long drive in the third period for our only score.

Excelsior 15—Poly 7

Our Jackrabbits, although favored to win this one, couldn't hold back the Pilots from Norwalk. We lost the game in the first half. In the third quarter our line stiffened, stopping the Pilots and pushing them all the way back to score.

San Diego Hoover 44—Poly 18

We entered the first home game of the season with heavy injuries but light spirits. San Diego Hoover dominated play except for five minutes of the third period when all Poly's points were scored.

Mark Keppel 21—Poly 6

With this game we broke a record. We lost five games in succession. Our Rabbits took the opening kick-off and marched all the way for our only score. After that our luck changed. The gun ending the game sounded as we were making a last minute drive.

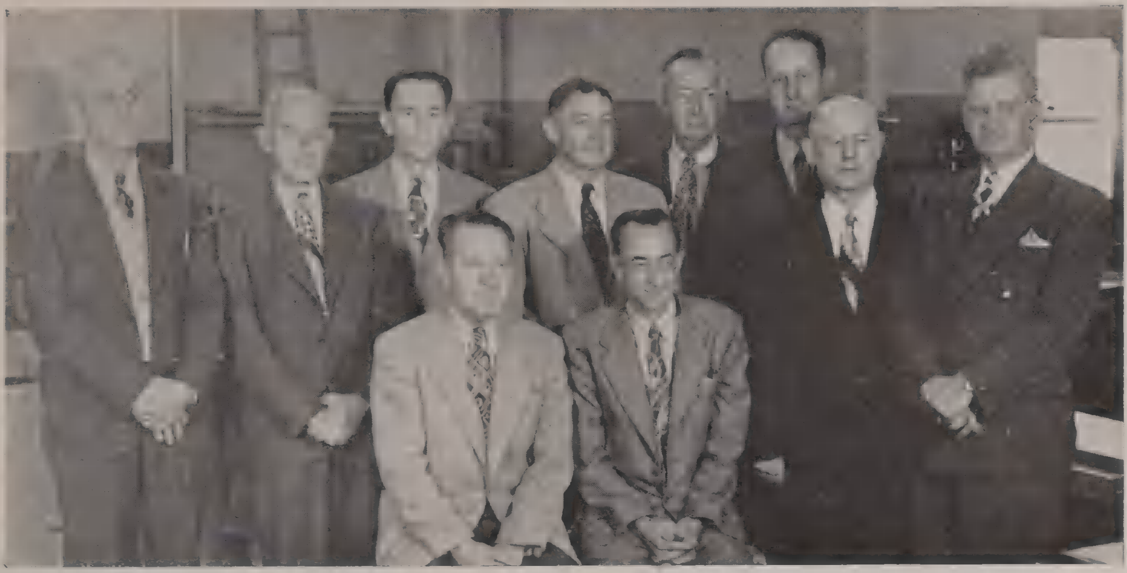
Home Making Department

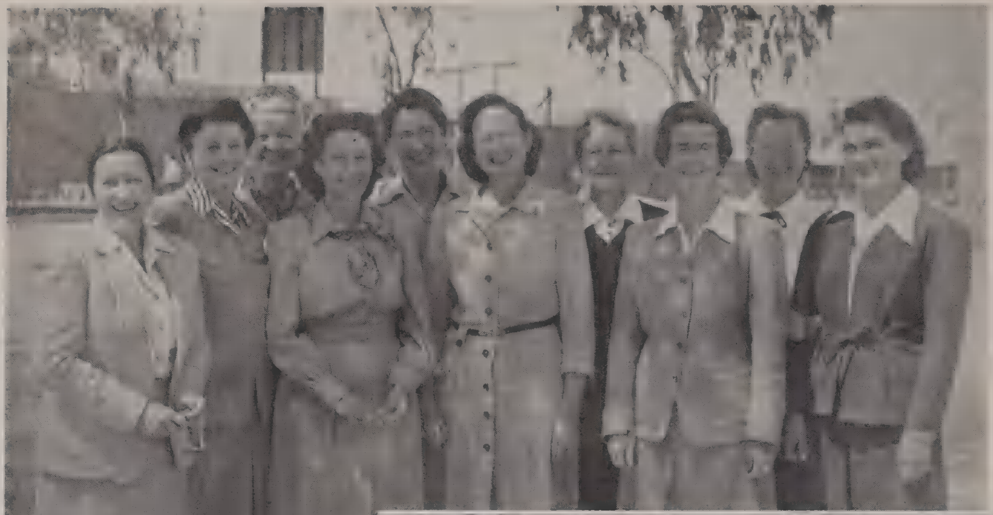
The Home Making department is composed of classes in clothing, foods, home management, and home nursing. In clothing the girls learn the use of sewing equipment and patterns. The foods classes emphasize nutrition, economy and value of foods. Home management is a study of child care, and home life. Home nursing is mainly for those girls interested in going into the nursing profession.



INDUSTRIAL ARTS—SEATED: Mr. Brainard, Mr. Barrow. STANDING: Mr. Bullard, Mr. Stribley, Mr. McKay, Mr. Freeman, Mr. Graves, Mr. Lynn, Mr. Cresmer, Mr. Piggott (head)

Automotive Mechanics Trade Course

Poly now offers a trade course to junior and senior boys interested in automotive mechanics. Students enrolled in this course, the Smith Hughes vocational program, attend the class three consecutive periods a day. On completion or four semesters of work with a B grade average the boys are eligible for a trade certificate attesting to the fact they have acquired a basic knowledge of automotive mechanics.



GIRLS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION TEACHERS—ROW I: Miss Gass (Head) Miss Frame, Miss Snavely, Miss Reardon, Miss Peters, Mrs. Cole. ROW II: Miss Clarke Mrs. Kinzer, Mrs. Bosche, Mrs. Hiefield

Drill Team and Flag Girls

This year our drill team did much to entertain with snappy marching and difficult formations, while the flag girls took an active part in raising Poly's school spirit by enthusiastically leading our songs.

Bunny Boosters

These chief "Bunny Boosters" of Poly, Song Leaders and Yell Leaders, have contributed their greatest efforts and talents to strengthening school spirit by leading the songs and yells which urged Poly's teams to victory.

Alhambra 45—Poly 25

Racking up their highest score to date was still not enough to end the plague of losses our Hares suffered. A determined Jackrabbit eleven played a strong game but the favored Moors were too much for them.

Whittier 25—Poly 12

This game was well played by both teams. We took the lead in the first period with a 50-yard drive, and everything was going fine until the final fatal minutes. With this game we had lost seven in a row.

El Monte 6—Poly 18

This time we did it! After the longest losing streak in the history of this school's football teams, the varsity finally brought home a victory. The game was played at Inglewood with few Poly rooters on hand, but Coach Montgomery and the boys didn't seem to need them.

HEY, WHERE DID HE GO?
Lila Shore

Wilson 20—Poly 28

Before 9000 cheering fans on Burcham Field, our varsity caught fire to end the season with the most prized victory of all, a win over Wilson. This was not a great year for us in football, but it was certainly a credit to the sportsmanship of Poly.

ART TEACHERS—ROW I: Mr. Fortmann, Mrs. Tompkins, Miss Foster. ROW II: Miss Ziegler, Mr. Vermilya, Miss Warner (Head).

Art Department

One of the Art Department's goals is to help the pupils gather a fund of knowledges which develops good tastes. The teachers guide the pupils in the satisfying of their vocational and hobby interests through creative experiences in the various types of art. Toward this end many opportunities for the learning of craft techniques in clay, leather, plastics, and weaving are provided. Other courses offered which are based on activities for campus use are commercial and advertising art, stage craft, stage crew workshop, costume design, and stage make-up crew workshop.

POLY PICTURE LOAN ASSOCIATION—Hubbard, Shutts, Beverwyk, Thompson, Miss Warner (Sponser)

STAGE CREW CLUB—Row I: Ringo, Clarke, Covert, Smith, Anderson ROW II: Bourne, Kapell, Blackburn, Blaydes, Blanpea, Mr. Fortmann

Christmas Concert

Much of the credit for the beautiful Christmas Concert is due the organizations which worked behind the scenes to make it a success. The stage and make-up crews did their parts to bring out the best in the different scenes and provide a good background for the vocal parts of the program.

Christmas Concert

Fascinating Scenes depicting different events of the traditional Christmas Story along with religious music by the different choral groups of the school gave the annual Christmas Concert an air of seriousness and provided a beautiful pageant for all.

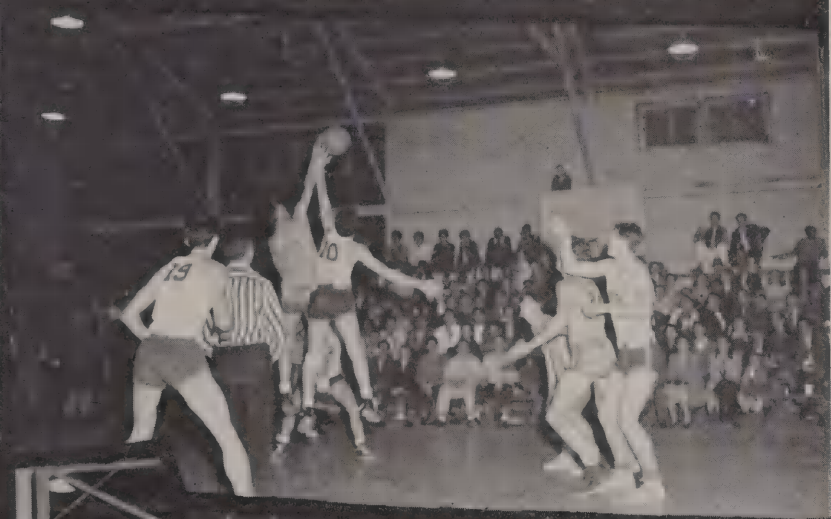
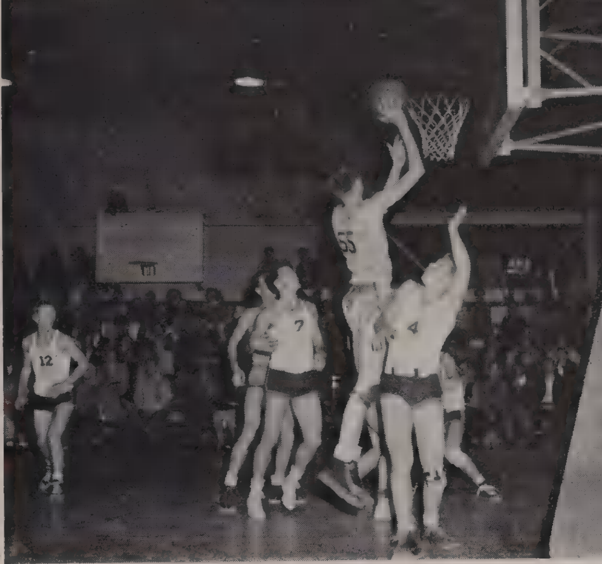
BASKETBALL

GAMES





VARSITY BASKETBALL

Coach Charlie Church led the Rabbits to third place in the league. The Poly Cagers beat all hometown rivals and exhibited a fast-moving style in both practice and league encounters.

BEE BASKETBALL

As always the Bunnies exhibited a strong team and finished the season with a very good record. Coach Kenny Welch could well be proud of the 1948 version of the Poly Middleweight Cagers.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

Every student in Poly High takes the Required English Classes offered by the English Department. A Creative Writing Class is offered to those interested.

The members of Masque and Sandal surpassed themselves this year when they produced, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." Under the able direction of Miss Breed, the cast made an outstanding effort in presenting such a different and dramatic play. This is the first time this play had been produced by a senior high school. For three nights, the audiences were held enthralled by the acting of Dick Driggers, as Edward Barrett; Elaine Merk and Jacque Weiss alternating as Elizabeth Barrett; Dick Jones and Dave Clark, alternating as Robert Browning; and Lita Codona as Henrietta.

CALIFORNIA SCHOLARSHIP FEDERATION

To those students who do their work well and are able to get at least three A's and one B on their report cards, membership in the CALIFORNIA SCHOLARSHIP FEDERATION is awarded.

The members may participate in the many activities of the local chapter. On Scholarship Ditch Day the Society visited the Huntington Library and Caltech. At the Annual Banquet, awards such as the lamp pins were presented.

Giving information and aid to the members and trying to win college scholarships are the main purposes of the organization.

Seal Bearers

Students who have been members of the California Scholarship Federation for at least four semesters, (once in their senior year), are rewarded for their long hours of study with Lamp pins representing lifetime membership in the CSF. In addition to this they receive gold seals on their diplomas, in recognition of their accomplishments in the field of scholarship.

Gold "L" and CSF Lamp Pin

The GOLD "L" and C.S.F. LAMP PIN are the two highest honors bestowed on the students of Poly. The students who earn both of these awards truly merit special recognition. The four students above have received both of these honors: Their GOLD "L's" for extensive service to their school, and their LAMP PINS and GOLD SEALS on their diplomas representing habitual membership in the California Scholarship Federation.

One of the most coveted awards given to a student at Poly is the GOLD "L". Those meriting the Gold "L" can well be proud of their service to the school, for of all awards presented, the Gold "L" involves the greatest amount of work. Students presented with them must have earned at least fifteen points through outstanding participation in extra curricular activities as well as through their superior scholarship rating. For those having earned ten extra points, the award includes one jewel. For those with fifteen extra points, two jewels are given.

SENIOR CLASS

With the coming of June, the graduating seniors of Poly meet the problems of the adult world. They have finally attained a point from which they may venture into life for themselves. Whatever they plan to do, Commencement Night is the jumping-off place of their career.

In leaving, they may look back and remember all of their experiences and good times during their years in school. The senior year especially is filled with big events.

The Graduating Class of '48 can point proudly to their years at Poly. Under the able leadership of their class officers they have been in the midst of each activity undertaken on the Poly campus. The seniors will always remember the games played against Jordan, Wilson, and other neighboring schools. Also bedded in their memories are the happy times spent at assemblies, dances, and plays.

With their long awaited Senior Year come many memorable events such as Ditch Day, the Senior Play, the Senior Prom, the Baccalaureate Service, and Graduation Night itself.

The Seniors express their appreciation for the assistance given them by their advisors, Miss Scheel and Mr. Lewis, and the class of '48 wishes success to all future graduating classes of Polytechnic High School.
